March
24th
1925

The Dearborn Publishing Co.,
Dearborn,
Mich.

Gentlemen:

ATTENTION: MR. F. L. BLACK, BUSINESS MGR

In accordance with your letter of March 9th, an effort has been made to gather the information you desire with reference to Blanche Booth, a niece of John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of Abraham Lincoln.

You will find a report of the interview of our Mr. Lundstrom with her dated March 24th attached.

She surrounds herself with great secrecy. The telephone has been disconnected. A notice in the hall of the apartment building where she lives, states that she will see no one under any circumstances without telephone appointment, and, of course, it is impossible to reach her by telephone. The information in the attached report was secured regardless of these facts.

A copy of the article in the Minneapolis Daily Star of Feb. 21st is attached.

S A Stellwagen
Manager Minneapolis Branch
FORD MOTOR COMPANY

SAS/B