My dear Mr. Black:

We are greatly interested in the possibility of your having the articles in the Dearborn Independent reprinted and I was remarking to our librarian just the other day that they certainly should be put in some available form for Lincoln students.

We find that the Black Cat Press in which Douglas McMurtrie is interested has put out some very fine publications during the last year or two and they do a very beautiful piece of printing.

We usually handle about forty or fifty of their limited edition, but I do not know whether or not they have proven to be profitable from the publisher's viewpoint.

If you do contemplate a revision calling for references we would be very happy indeed to submit some little items which you might wish to include or refer to, although I think you have covered the ground very thoroughly.

Very truly yours,

Louis A. Warren
