Dear Mr Cook:

With reference to your letter of September 19th, during the past couple years I have been so terrifically busy in connection with my regular work that I have not kept up with new developments in the Booth situation. I am afraid you will have to make your own decision as to what you should do with your new discoveries. I am so well satisfied that John Wilkes Booth died in the Garrett barn that I can't conceive of there being any definite proof to the contrary.

Thanks very much for writing me.

Very truly yours
