Gentlemen:

I am just completing a sequel to my "Why Was Lincoln Murdered?" (Little Brown and Company, 1937), and would like to have your permission to quote not to exceed 250 words from the article by Fred L. Black which appeared in your paper from February 7th to May 2nd, 1925.

If it is necessary to get Mr. Black's permission also, can you tell me where I can get in touch with him?

Full acknowledgment shall be made, of course, to you as the publishers, as well as to the author, either in the footnotes or in the text.

Please accept in advance my thanks for your courtesy.

Sincerely yours,

Otto Eisenschiml
