Dear Mr. Black:

Zola Forrester, a granddaughter of Booth, was on the air last night on the Sanka program called "We, The People". She told about Booth joining the secret society which led up to the assassination of Lincoln and said that after the assassination he was not killed, but that, according to her grandmother's journal, he went to Richmond, Virginia, where he hid a while, then went to Liverpool, then Shanghai, and finally died in Bombay.

Very truly yours,

Hay
