Mr. F. L. Black,
Dearborn, Mich.

My Dear Mr. Black:

Every week I am more and more impressed with the variety and value of the assistance given to ideals for human lives by the short quotations on the last page of the cover of the Dearborn Independent. I enclose copy of "A Morning Prayer" subject to your discretion for sometime placing there.

Nothing of mine for publication would please me more than to know that prayer had gone out in a periodical which has such an extended circulation. This is not a request, but a suggestion intended for ye editor's O. K. or his waste-basket.

Cordially Yours
Henry B. Rankin
