Dear Mr Tyner:

I certainly appreciated your letter of June 14th congratulating me on the series of articles about Lincoln's assassination. I am writing a new series of five stories. After these appear, it has been planned to arrange them in book form.

It always gives me a great amount of enjoyment to receive a request from the Editorial Department to send you a check for some story which they have accepted. We remember your stay with us several years ago with much pleasure.

Very truly yours
