Dear Sirs:-

I am returning to you herewith, a letter which has been opened by me by mistake. the name of the addressee thereof and my name being identically the same, it was delivered to my residence, the Hotel Sunland, this city.

Upon discovering that the enclosed letter was not for me, I took occassion to look thru the city directory for the intended addressee, but found no other G C Allen, listed therein aside from myself, i e, listed by the innitials. I also examined the directory for a building such as directed in said letter as "Public Library Building," but there is no building listed therein under that designation. I am returning the letter therefore, to you, and trust that you may have a better address of your correspondent and be successful in locating him.

Being pleased to render this item of service, I am

Very truly yours,

G. C. Allen.
