Dear Mr Wilson:

Unfortunately, I do not believe I can tell you the history of the Booth with the signature. There is probably a copy of one at the Dramatic Library of Harvard College. I understand the people who now own the Booth home at Belair made a museum of it. I will search for Bates' likeness for you.

I am sorry we have not had an opportunity to spend several days together. The Booth story is one of the most interesting in American history.

Very truly yours
