Dear Sir:

We have a copy of the statement you made March 31st with reference to your connection with the party under Sergeant Corbett that went in pursuit of John Wilkes Booth. Can you give us further details about your trip from Washington down to the Garrett place and as to what happened there.

We note you state that Booth, after leaping from the stage in the Ford Theatre, limped in his right leg. You possibly know that the boot cut from his foot by Dr. Mud was a left boot showing that it was the left leg that was fractured.

Jos Zisgen received a reward as his part in the chase and you should have participated too. Why didn't you get your share?

We note you say that Boston Corbett shot Booth and killed him instantly. All other statements in connection with the final scenes at the Garrett place state that Booth lived for several hours after being shot. We are very much interested in the various Booth stories and would appreciate having you write us.

Very truly yours
