Dear Mr. Black:

At the time you were running your articles on Booth in the Independent, I expected from what you told me that it would be put in book form. I wish you would do so. That would be one more book for Lincoln matter, and more has been published this year, than any previous year.

I am writing a Life of Lincoln and I want to use some of your illustrations if they are to be had. I am going to quote some of your articles also with your permission, giving you full credit.

Let me know what you contemplate doing about the book.

Yours cordially,

Joseph Benjamin Oakleaf.
