Ford Motor Company,
Memphis, Tenn.

Gentlemen:

Will you please have someone look in the Memphis papers for January 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, 1903 for stories about the suicide of D. E. George at Enid, Okla., who claimed that he was John Wilkes Booth?

Any story that you can find on any of these dates, in the Memphis papers, will you please copy and send to us? Will you also note, while looking over these papers if there are any reported washouts on these dates on the road running from Memphis to El Reno, Okla., which I think is the Frisco system?

If there are no records in the papers of washouts on the Frisco system at that time I would appreciate if you could find out from the Frisco people at Memphis whether they have any record back that far showing whether there were any unusual delays on passenger trains between Memphis and El Reno for any reason?

Any expense incurred in this connection should be billed to The Dearborn Publishing Company.

Very truly yours,

THE DEARBORN PUBLISHING COMPANY,

F. L. BLACK.

BUSINESS MANAGER.
