IN ROCHESTER

ROCHESTER Saturday, April 15, 1865.

The intelligence of the assassination of President Lincoln and Secretary Seward caused the most profound sensation in the city. Business is suspended. Public and private buildings are hung with emblems of mourning. Bells are tolled, and a public meeting is to be held at 3 p.m. on the call of the Mayor. The expression of sorrow is universal in this community.

IN BUFFALO

BUFFALO, Saturday, April 15, 1865.

All stores are closed, buildings draped in black, flags at half-mast, and bells tolling. The utmost grief and consternation prevail. The churches, instead of being decked in flowers for Easter, will be hung in black.

IN NEWARK

NEWARK, N. J. Saturday, April 15, 1865

Profound gloom prevails here over the mournful tragedy at Washington. Flags are at half-mast, and places of business are closed. The streets are filled with crowds of people discussing the sad event. The Daily Advertiser is heavily draped with mourning.

IN POUGHKEEPSIE

POUGHKEEPSIE, SATURDAY, APRIL 15, 1865

Intense excitement prevailed here this morning in relation to the National disaster.

A woman named Frisbee exulted in public over the assassination of the President, when the house in Main Street in which she resided was immediately surrounded by several hundred infuriated people, who demanded her immediate arrest.

A young man named Denton interfered with the mob, when he was immediately throttled and, together with the woman, was handed over to the authorities, who lodged them in fail. This being accomplished, the populace quietly dispersed.

The city is draped in mourning, and the gloom is general.

BOOTH NOT IN PENNSYLVANIA - THE PARTIES ARRESTED

Reading, Friday, April 21, 1865.

The Booth chase in this region is now positively known to be futile. The man said to have recognized the individual arrested as Booth, denies having any knowledge of him. A man has been arrested at Tamaqua, but he is anybody but Booth.
