P 209

Bullock reasoning

The question "Could" this have been an accident" (accident is undoubtedly meant) is used as premise for conclusion "Surely it was prearranged".

Ruggles States P 443
Century Jan 1, 1890

"Re peace"

Ride-
from the Confederates had not arrived before both and were not waiting for him and the meeting was not pre-arranged- if such Canada as Ruddy had existed and him sent ahead to make arrangements the meeting could not have taken place as planned due to the delays

Crossing the Potomac

p 210

~~Starting with a~~ ~~Coincident a~~

Yes, Jett, Bowbridge and Ruggles met Book & Herndl at the ferry but since the facts as given in their statement do not corroborate the explanation of the Boles we cannot arrive at the conclusion that a third party, Ruby, arranged for this purely accidental meeting.

p 210 Ou — 214

The war dept does been bothered & beset with person types of Fakirs, claimvoyants, those having dreams, about John Wilkes Booth!
Refer Baker History secret service newspaper
And here was another "nut"
The case was closed in 1869 as far as war Dept was concerned.

Absolute ~~mistakement~~ dust
"war Dept. fully advised that there was no ~~dreat~~ positive ~~proof~~ direct proof on file as to death of John Wilkes Booth -
John P Burnside ~~ex-soldier~~ a clerk in war dept. wrote as a private citizen who had access to records

P 220—221

(how strikingly like St Helen)

~~Compare~~ Study

not when one compares the tintype with pictures of John W Booth or the description of John Hoge with Surratt's statement & St Helen

---

Refer to 3rd means Statement

John Hay makes no prophecy here - which moralizes on what might have happened had Booth not injured his leg

---

~~If "prophets" old" were no better than this~~ It is a purloined ~~Have no~~ Has parallel ~~let us trust that~~ ~~no parallel exists~~ between John Hays "It might have been" "no prophets old" and Mrs Bates' St Helen.

c) It is quite amusing to note that after adding this line Bates got "cold feet" and did not have it copied into the book but altered the copy above to prove that George did not die until the 14th.

When questioned about this Feb 8 and 9th Bates insisted that he had never altered this appendix but could not explain how it had happened.

(b) had broken the paper. In the attempt to write through the seal the ink spread Notice (letters)

X

~~a thing~~ This would not have occured if the line had been added before the seal was placed on the opposite.

Here with are photographs samples of our Rules handwriting. a careful Comparison shows the similarity to the added line—

256/07 Jan 13 and not on 14th & as he would lead us to believe — ✱ Picture of the dead body shows it as considerably bloated — Does not look at all like the type.
but 7 Course recognition after 28 years "was mistaken as to" p 260

Page 261
Thirty-two years — not 28 — Bates left Granbury before burning court House 1875 and did not see St Helen afterwards — ackn Feb 9 '21

He knew him ~~so well as~~ intimately and absolutely as John St Helen — but cannot

P 262

The attendant W. H. Ryan — who embalmed the body says they did not recognize the Indian as the man he had embalmed —

The high thumb joint and the scar on the right brow were not noticeable enough to have mentioned in any of the current newspaper descriptions of 1866 — or the various descriptions given out at that time and does not show on his pictures —
What about the Noticeable scar on St Helen's neck that was so noticeable to the other Granbury friends as the indentation on the leg — Wrong leg and too high

It is quite kind of Mr Bates & your Brown, the hotel Clerk and line ling — that George registered at the Hotel Dec 3, 1902, George did not remain "in reading room and office most the time", but in his room — Boyd. Wilson —

He was not "a reasonably early riser" but was usually in bed at 9 Dec — Boyd — Wilson —

"Am I better than the dog & this paragraph shows is another wonderful flight of the imagination —

Hyams 20 Nov 68

Separate Page

In conversation Feb 9, 1921
Mr Bates attempted to explain the wire he claims to have received by saying that he thought it was Brown, the hotel clerk, who wired him ~~that~~ that the wire was sent to Greenville, Miss., the place to which he (Bates) had just moved from Granbury, Texas, and Consequently ~~that it~~ did not reach him until several days after it was sent. That ~~Brown~~ George had addressed a letter to him (Bates), but did not mail it - That Brown got the Greenville address from having seen this letter.
He claimed the letter was stolen from the body of George at the Morgue.

P 277

Statements here not true as Penniman had already decided on preserving the body — before Baker came — Sunnyside — Smith —

Smith had already deposited last statement and two wills w D.E. George at Probate Judges Office — found there was not estate and left — Penniman had reserved & exhibiting the body and took out papers of administration on the estate (Less than 50.00) so as to have possession of the body —